

A photograph showing a group of about ten elderly women singing on a stage. They are wearing light-colored, short-sleeved shirts and dark trousers. Each woman has a microphone stand in front of her. The background is a plain green wall. To the right of the stage, there is a vertical banner with text and a small sign for the市民会館 (Citizen's Hall). The overall atmosphere is that of a community event or performance.